THE DAILY COMMONWEALH.

FRANKFORT..... TUESDAY, JAN. 26, 1847.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

IN SENATE. Monday, January 25.

The Senate was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr.

Mr. JAMES presented a petition from sundry citizens of Graves county, praying for the establishment of a public warehouse at Paducah, for the inspection of Tobacca, which, on motion of Mr. James was referred to committee of the whole, for Thursday next.

Sundry petitions were presented by Senators Peyton. Hardin, Heady and Evans, and appropriately re-which was adopted, viz:

That the committee en the Judiciary h instructed to enquire into the propriety, of so amending the law in regard to administrators, and the settlement of estates of persons who may have died insolvent, as to authorize administrators to proportion the assets, where the estate does not exceed a limited amount; and report by bill or otherwise.

The SPEAKER laid before the Senate, the report of the Commissioners appointed to select a site for the erection of a Lamatic Asylum in the Green river section of the State; said report recommends Bowlinggreen as the most eligible location.

Orders of the Day.

A bill from the II. R. for the benefit of the Crittenden county court.

Mr. BRADLEY, explained the object and provisions of this bill; to appropriate the money arising from the sales of vacant lands in the county, for the purpose of building a jail. &c. Crittenden had formed a part of Livingston—a similar bill had been passed last year for the benefit of the latter, but the former reaped none of its advantages.

Mr. HARDIN, opposed the bill, on the ground that the fund alluded to, had been appropriated by a general law, for the improvement of roads, and he was unwilling to divert it from this purpose. Mr. PATTERSON advocated the passage of the bill; the county of Crittenden was not in his district, but he was acquainted with its necessities, and he felt that justice to them required the desired appropriation to be made. The roads leading to their county seat, were generally good, and the erection of a jail, (which the people there, cannot, under existing circumstances make,) is indispensable to the security of the administration of public justice.

Mr. HENDERSON disliked to interfere with a bill which had the appearance of a local measure; but with regard to this matter, a general law had been passed, appropriating the fund arising from this source, to a specific object, and he was unwilling to make exceptions in favor of particular counties, diverting any portion of this fund to other purposes. In his section of the State, there was a disposition to have the money arising from the sale of vacant lands, appropriated for the benefit of common schools but he was opposed on principle, to even this, much as he was in layor of a good common school sys-

The bill was passed by a vote of yeas 29, nays 4. A bill to modify the law of 1833, (which had been referred to Committee of the whole, and made the special order of the day for Thursday last, and passed over from time to time.)

On motion, the committee of the whole was discharged from the further consideration of the bill. Mr. HENDERSON moved to lay the bill on the table, upon which motion, the yeas and mays were

A call of the roll being had, and the absent members brought in the vote stood as follows, viz:

NAVS-Messrs. Ballard, Bradley, Bramlette. Brien. Bristow, Draffin, Evans. Harris, Heady, Helm, James. Marshall. McNary, Patterson, Peyton, Rice, Russell, South, Thurman and Walker-20.

The Senate refused to lay the bill on the table. Mr. HARRIS, moved to strike out the word "conclusive," in the second section of the bill, (copied below.) and insert "prima facie," which motion pre-

Mr. HENDERSON, said, that he lives near the wilderness road, and has had the most abundant opportunity of witnessing the extent of the evil which the law of 1833 was designed to correct. The first legislation had upon this subject, resulted in the law of 1812, which was found to be wholly inefficient. During the operation of that law, the traffic of slaves was scarcely interrupted—he had himself seen fifty negroes in a gang, chained and manacled, driven along the public highway, brought from another State, into our own, as merchandize. These facts had induced him and others to urge the enactment of a law which would reach the evil, and strike at its very roots, and in 1826, he had prepared a bill for this purpose. The venerable Judge Green, had year after year, bent all his energies to the success of such a measure, until at length in 1833, its friends succeeded in passing the law now upon the statute book. He was opposed to any interference with that law as it stands, but he would infinitely prefer its entire repeal, to the modification sought for, in the bill now under consideration. Pass this bill and in a short time you would have lines of warehouses established along the eastern and southern borders of your State, filled with the refuse slaves of other States, to be disgorged upon us, as opportunity might present itself. This was no idle dreamno vision of the fancy. He had now a letter in his pocket, informing him that one individual had at this time, fifteen negroes, just over the Tennessee line, awaiting the action of the present legislature. He begged Senators to look at the consequences of a repeal of the law of 1833. Instead of a return in money, for the sale of our surplus products exported, you would have a return in negroes, and the | bill, when State would be impoverished, and flooded by a vile worthless population. He was no abolitionist-as far from it as any Senator on that floor, but all men are more or less this question. He had the honor to represent two tion of the 22nd inst., in which you allude to the ap-the negroes from the State.

Mr. H. believed the settled policy of the State to be against the introduction of slaves as merchandeliver slaves by weight, to evade that law. If the sheep, and were in no way injurious to the flocks of law of 1833 is to be modified in any way, he would the farmer. go for its entire repeal, and give every one a fair of such a course of legislation.

second section of the bill, which read as follows, viz: Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That if any person or persons, aforesaid, shall sell, within this State, any such slave or slaves, within five years, with a said slave or slaves may be imported; shall make any contract during said time, for the said slave or slaves, or shall hire out the said slave or slaves for a term of years, with the intent to evade this act, or shall use any device whatever to evade the same, by hiring or selling, or causing the same to be sold by execution, when the same can be avoided, that the person or persons so acting, shall, for each and every offence, and for each slave so sold, or hired or sold, be subject to the penalties denounced by the law of 1833, prohibiting the importation of slaves into this State, recoverable in the same manner as provided in said act of 1833; and the fact of selling of five years, shall be deemed conclusive evidence of ried.

Mr. J. SPEED SMITH, in proposing to strike out this section of the bill, remarked that its provisions mere more pregnant with fraud and inducements to perjury, than any similar number of lines he had ever met with in any legislative act. The effect of it would be to involve every man who should buy or sell a negro, in an endless round of difficulties, from which it would be impossible for him to extricate himself by fair means. The object of all legislation should be to promote and cherish the public morals. In the passage of this bill, you invite speculation in the field of traffic, and at the same time, surround the speculation with difficulties, and hold out the strongest inducements to the perpetration of fraud and perjury. But you do more-you assert the exercise of a right, and in the same breath deny the exercise of that right. You refuse to Kentuckians the right of disposing of what you call a chattel. You compel the wife to part with her bridal jewelry-you require a man to sell his homestead--the place of his birth-the spot hallowed by all the fond recollections of early youth—to permit the graves of his ancestors, and of all who were near and dear to him, to be trodden by the foot of the stranger-sooner than he shall sell his slaves-a chattel interest. He supposed it was the object of sible, and if it passed, he wished it stripped of this odious feature. Upon the question to strike out, the vote stoodyeas 14. nays 14, and the Speaker gave the casting the friends of this bill to make it as perfect as pos vote in the affirmative. So the second section was stricken out. Mr. HARRIS moved to refer the bill to a Select Committee, which prevailing, the bill was referred to a Select Committee, Messrs. Harris, Peyton and

Mr. GRAVES moved a reference of the bill to the committee on Ways and Means. He did not see any propriety in offering a reward for the killing of wild cats. A man might as well be paid a bounty for killing rattlesnakes, which were certainly as injurious as wild cats.

GENTLEMEN:-I have received your communica-

The kindness of my fellow citizens, has on many occasions placed have to declare, that in my opinion, the Kentuckian me in highly responsible positions, where conceal- who would submit to any restriction upon their ment of opinion would have been a crime against newly acquired territory, would grossly misrepresent them, and dishonorable to myself, even if it had been the feelings and wishes of his own, and of every practicable. You all know me as a Whig, and as other slave-holding State in the contederacy. Any identified, so far as my humble action is concerned, such restriction would be most unjust. It carried with whig principles. This has been so distinctly by votes from the slave-holding States, it would be known, that you have not thought necessary to ask notoriously suicidal, an inglorious abandonment of the that question, or any other that would involve my sincere devotion to the whig cause-considering my future course, as a matter of more interest and importance at this crisis, than any opinion I may hold in relation to events that are passed, and are now be- that it is the constitutional right of each of the yond recall or amendment, I will reply to that interrogatory, which though last in the series, is in my judgment, much the most important, and the leading one, in all its practical bearings. I answer, other power. Otherwise, such State would have to that it is clearly, and without the shadow of a doubt, the indispensible duty of the General Government to prosecute the war against Mexico with its utmost | pensible attributes of sovereign power, which propenergies; and had I a voice in the National councils, I would vote for supplies of men and money, and ev- others. This opinion I have often declared heretofore, and at the same time expressed the belief, that in the end. it would prove to be a measure of economy. I wish my country complete and triumphant success in this, and every other struggle she may be engaged in, with a foreign foe. I take it for grant-the superior claims and qualifications of some other ed that we will make no temporising peace, none that will not hold out a reasonable hope of security for the future, and none in which our just claims against Mexico will not be provided for. Should we acquire additional territory in that direction, in a manner sanctioned by the Constitution, and consistent with the National interest and honor, I would not vote for any proposition that would make the exclusion of slaves a pre-requisite to the acquisition of the domain. I would leave that subject to the inhabitants who might settle and occupy it.

With relation to the various causes of disagreement, that have from time to time arisen between the two countries, and upon each of which you ask the question, whether at the time of their occurrence they were seperately just causes of war, I can only say, they all came under the careful review of various democratic administrations, and those administrations entertained the opinion, that our Republic would gain more in renown, from forbearauce toward a weak enemy, than by a resort to war. I was satisfied with their decision, and the patriotic and generous motives which led to it. In regard to the immediate causes that led to our present war, I am of the opinion, that our difficulties might have been satisfactorily adjusted, and that the steps that led to the commencement of hostilities, were not wise or judicious. In ordering Gen. Taylor to occupy a position in front of Matamoras, the President, I must be allowed to say, acted unwisely and prematurely. This opinion, of course, is predicated upon such facts as are before the public. If the President had secret information which controlled his action, of that, I cannot judge without knowing it.

With great respect, I am gentlemen, Your obedient servant, THOMAS METCALFE.

HON. J. R. UNDERWOOD'S RESPONSE. FRANKFORT, 25th Jan'y. 1847.

Gent'emen:-Your first and second inquires relate to transactions which are past, and any opinion I may entertain in regard to them. can have little or no practical effect. When I left Congress in March, 1843, my expectation was, that our unsettled claims against Mexico, would be satisfactorily arranged by a new Convention, according to the provisions of the 6th article of the Convention of the 30th January, 1843, and that the awards of the Commissioners theretofore made in favor of our citizens, would be promptly paid in the manner agreed on. I am not sufficiently acquainted with the facts which have since transpired, to give an opinion upon them. I have had no access to the documents and correspondence between the governments of Mexico and the United States since your letter was placed in my hands; and if the documents and correspondence had been before me. I have not had sufficient time to examine them. Under such circumstances, I can only say, that "long continued injuries inflicted on the persons and property of the people of our country, and a failure to adjust and pay the claims due to our fellow-citizens," constitute just causes of war on the part of the United States, against any nation committing such grievances. So likewise, a refusal and failure to comply with treaty stipulations, is a just cause of war. But in all these cases, redress by with Mexico, I think that a time would speedily war, should, in my opinion, be postponed until every have come, when we could have made it appear to penceful and diplomatic remedy has been fully and cirly tried, and tried in vain.

Your third enquiry calls for my opinion of the President's conduct in relation to the advance of But I repeat again, that these opinions relate to the army from the Nueces to the Rio Grande. Your letter states in substance, that the President's orders were given in "March last." It may be that Gen. action of the present day, and I will close by reaf- Taylor did not receive the orders until March, but the President expressly declared in his last annual patriot, to do all that is in his power to sustain the message, that the orders were issued from the War honor of the American flag, and the glory of the Department, on the 13th of January, that the army left Corous Christi on the 11th of March, and that it reached the Rio Grande, opposite Matamoras, on the 28th of March, all in the year 1846. Congress was in session when the orders were issued. The facts and circumstances detailed in the message, ought, in my opinion, to have convinced the President, that the advance of the army to the Rio Grande, would, as it did, bring the two countries into immeledge the receipt of your communication of the 22d diate collision. I therefore, think it would have inst., propounding certain interrogatories, predica- been in perfect accordance with the spirit of ted upon the presningtion that my name will be our Republican institutions, had the President prepresented to the Legislature at the approaching sented the whole subject of our difficulties with Mexico, to the consideration of Congress, and con-Without having determined to forbid the use of my sulted the Representatives of the people, before orname for that office, should it be the pleasure of my dering the army to advance, and I think he erred in not doing so. Col. MITCHELL, of the 1st Ohio Regiment of volunteers, who distinguished himself at Monterey, and who returned to Ohio, some weeks since, passed down the river on yesterday, on his way to resume the command of his regiment. A pleasant trip to the gallant Colonel.

THE SWORD OF WASHINGTON IN MEXICO .- LAW-RENCE B. WASHINGTON, Lieutenant of the Jefferson county volunteers. Virginia regiment, is said to be a descendant of General George Washington, and as we learn from the Richmond Inquirer, wears the sword of his great ancestor.

Mr. Thompson, (says the correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune) says the President wants some friend in the field, with whom he can hold confidential intercourse. He ought to be contented with one "confi- Ho dential friend" in the field, and that one he has already in the person of Santa Anna.

The correspondent of the New York Tribune states, that among the recent arrivals at Washing-10n, is Senor Atocha, who, it is said, was instrumental in procuring from the President, permission for Sin'a Anna to pass through the blockading squadron, and to take command of the Mexican army operating against the United States.

WILLIAM HENDERSON, THE STATE OF OHIO.

In Error.

This was the case for kidnapping Jerry Phinney, case which I regard as analagous in principle. I at Franklinton, some ten months since, and which was a member of the Legislature when resolutions has given rise to no small degree of excitement. Henderson was the Justice of the Peace, and was indicted with Armitage and others, in Franklin tion which members of Congress from the non- Common Pleas, and tried at the Special Term in Sepslaveholding States were desirous to impose upon tember, for the alledged kidnapping; he was convicted, and the others acquitted. The case came restriction. I hold that the people of every State which may hereafter be admitted into our Confedrors assigned; and was decided this morning. Woon, eracy, should be untrammelled and free in forming Chief Justice, pronouncing what was understood to be the unanimous opinion of the Court, upon the following points:

The Court held, 1. That a juror could not be withdrawn by consent in a criminal case, and the trial proceed; and therefore, there was an error in the proceedings below. 2. That Henderson being a Justice of the Peace, acted in a judicial capacity, and had jurisdiction in the case of an escaping slave, and consequently his proceedings could not be called in question, for not acting in good faith, as he would protected by the doctrine of judicial immunity. 3. That in consequence of this judicial unmunity he would not be liable to an indictment, but could be called in question only by impeachment!

'The judgment of the Common Pleas was therefore reversed, and it is understood that the Attorney CIETY, will hold a FAIR in the upper room of the General will order the discharge of the prisoner, as Court Honse, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, the Court have so settled all the legal principles of dispute in his favor.

Prospectus of the Cincinnati Atlas.

BY STEVENSON, LOOKER & TODD. THE undersigned, having purchased of N. GULFORD, Esq., the entire establishment, embracing the Atlas Newspaper. Job Office, ecc., will take charge of it on the first day of January, 1247.

Office, &c., will take charge of it on the first day of January, 1847.

It is hoped the new arrangement will prove entirely satisfactory to all the former parions of the Atlas.

The Editorial Department of the paper will be under the direction of THOMAS B. STEVENSON, long experienced as a political writer, and late editor of the Fraukfort Commonwealth, the Whig Journal at the Capitol of Kentucky. The departments of Commerce, News, Literature, City Items, &c., will be faithfully attended to by a strong corps of Regular Assistant Editors; while also, in all departments of the paper, the editor will be aided by unmerous occasional contributors and correspondents. Regular correspondents will be employed at Columbus, Washington, and other unportant points; so that the paper will be made, in its entire scape, if a liberal outlay of enterprise, industry, and other means can accomplish such a result, an interesting and useful Journal, worthy of the conf-dence and support of Politiciaus, Farmers, Manufacturers, Mechanies, Merchants, Familics, and General Readers.

liticians, Farmers, Manufacturers, Mechanics, Merchants, Farmilies, and General Readors.

Every arrangement will be made to secure and publish the earliest News from every quarter.

The political character of the Atlas will be WIHG—thorough WIHG. It will be every thing for the Whig cause, nothing for Men. It will sacrifice no principle of the Whig party, no interest of the country, for any considerations of present or remote expediency. Taking it for granted that the nominee of the Whigs of the X-tion, the Atlas will give to such nominee, from whatever quarter of the Union celled, a firm, fervent and enthusiastic support.

of the N-tion, the Atlas will give to such nominee, from what exer quarter of the Union called, a firm, fervent and enthusiastic amport.

The Commercial Department of the Aclas will be under the direction of Mr. A. PEABODY, of the Merchants' Exchange, and will, we hope, offer peculiar claims to the patronage of business men of every practical pursuit of lile—Farmers, Traders, Merchants, Manufacturers, Mechanics, &c. &c. It will present daily reports of the Cincinnati Market—sales and prices; a weekly review of the Market; the imports and exports by river, canals, and rainoad, with a weekly tabular exhibit of the same; and also all other matters connected with the commerce and trade of our city. Notices of Domestic and Forelan Markets of latest dates will recuisely be given, with statistical and such other commercial infermation as is necessary to make the Atlas a thorough Commercial paper.

Identifying our entire interests with this great city, we hope to prove ourselves worthy of, and confidently expect to receive, a liberal abure of patronage, in the way of subscriptions to the Atlas, Advertisements, all sorts of Job Work, &c. &c. All the proprietors of the Atlas being Natives of the West, we fiel confident that we understand, and can in some measure promote, the vast interests of the great Mississippl Valley.

But knowing that the paper itself will be judged by its contents, we refer to it; being perfectly willing that it shall be approved or rejected according to its merits or dements.

The Atlas is published on a Bouthe Super Royal sheet, of superior paper, with new Miniou and Nonpareil type, on the terms following:
